Military Family Services US - Family Guide

MFSP
MILITARY FAMILY
SERVICES PROGRAM
UNITED STATES

For Families, By Families

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR OUTCAN POSTING!

Military Family Services (MFS) is excited to welcome you and your family to the United States! The Military Family Services United States (MFSUS) Family Guide is meant to compliment the NORAD (North American Defense) and CDLS(W) ((Canadian Defense Liaison Staff (Washington)) Welcome Books and websites where you will find all the processes and procedures needed to follow making sure your “i’s” are dotted and “t’s” are crossed. The books and sites you will use will be dependent upon which organization your CAF member is affiliated with, NORAD or CDLS(W). In this guide we will:

- a) focus in on some issues particularly important for families to pay attention to,
- b) walk you through a timeline of things that you need to know at different points in your move,
- c) inform you of the programs and services that we offer and
- d) help you understand how MFS programs and services can be of assistance to you and your family during your new adventure in the United States.

MFSUS team is committed to enhancing the quality of life of its community members. As a newcomer, you may at times be overwhelmed with information and experiences as you adapt to a new lifestyle. If you find that you still have questions with the information you have received in your Welcome Package, or through the NORAD or CDLS(W) Welcome Books or Websites, please do not hesitate to contact one of our Military Family Services Coordinators (MFSCs) or MFSUS Outreach Coordinator via email or telephone. If you did not receive a Welcome Package, contact your regional MFSC or in the case of remote families, your MFSUS Outreach Coordinator. See pages 5 and 6 for the MFSUS Staff information based on your posting. You can also check us out at www.cafconnection.ca/United-States, on Facebook, Twitter, Youtube, and WebEx at National Social Media for Families.

Each region creates a monthly, or more frequent, newsletter pertinent to their local area. We also have a national newsletter, which provides more generic information for families in all locations in the US. Contact your regional MFSUS Staff to add your email to the local and national newsletter lists. We use Constant Contact as a platform which works best on a non- DWAN computer, so your personal email is optimal. You will find a substantial amount of information that might be helpful to you as your family prepares, moves, and settles into your new location. We have also launched our new and improved MFS website, which provides a plethora of useful information. Information is available at www.cafconnection.ca/United-States

We hope that your stay in the United States will be a rewarding one and that you will have the opportunity to make many new connections to enhance your OUTCAN experience. We encourage you to get involved in your community and to stay connected to your designated MFSUS Staff.

Please come and see us when you arrive or if you are in a remote location just give your designated MFSUS Staff a call to get connected and see what we can do for you. It will be our pleasure to meet you either in person or virtually. Staff hours are different at each location, so be sure to check the local office hours at MFS Locations. We look forward to meeting you!

Let us help you...

YOUR SUPPORT TEAM

What does Military Family Services look like in the United States?

Military Family Services (MFS) provides funding and national support for the Military Family Services Program (MFSP) for Canadian Armed Forces (CAF) families.

Our Mission:

To contribute to the well-being of Canadian Armed Forces families, enabling a mission-ready force that protects Canadians and Canadian interests across the country and around the world.

In Canada, the MFSP is delivered locally by Military Family Resource Centres (MFRCs) in 32 military communities. The MFRCs are incorporated, not-for-profit, third-party organizations working in partnership with the Military Family Services Division, the local chain of command and other community partners to deliver core programs of the MFSP as well as tailored services driven by particular community or demographic needs.

It is a little different in the United States. Here, we are a direct service of Military Family Services in Ottawa with MFS Coordinators in twelve points of service throughout the continental US, Alaska and Hawaii. The staff, who work either full time or part time, are spouses of CAF members posted to that particular location. We also have a Senior Manager to whom the MFSCs report, based in Calgary, Alberta. The staff and Senior Manager work closely with their local chain of command and local Advisory Committees to plan and implement local and national programs and services. We call ourselves MFS (Military Family Services) instead of MFRCs. We also have a small national team of staff who work in the background to ensure consistency of policy and services delivered throughout the US.

Because many of our points of service do not actually have a facility (with most MFSCs working from home), we may not offer all the services that you might find at an MFRC in Canada - but we are here to help you have a smooth transition to your new community and hopefully thrive throughout your posting. MFSUS still provides a number of essential services that your family might benefit from, whether those programs and services are physically offered in specific communities or offered virtually. Our virtual programs and support are available to all families, whether local or geographically remote. Families posted to a location with a number of other families usually have an MFS Coordinator in that location. Many of our families are posted to remote locations and these families work with our Outreach Coordinator for support and assistance. Pages 5 and 6 help you determine who your MFSUS contact will be.

Make sure you contact your MFS Coordinator as soon as you arrive or better still before you arrive! They may be able to provide you with information that will help you with decisions about where you are going to get a house, what schools might fit your needs, or answer any of the questions you might have about this new adventure. They will connect families with local programs and services, particularly the US Military Family Support Centers - the Fleet and Family Readiness Centers and the Airman and Family Readiness Centers - in the communities where they exist. These facilities have fantastic programs and services and are available to Canadian members and families. (Just another reason why our programs might seem limited since we can access all that the US has to offer.)

Connect with us on CafConnection, Facebook, Twitter, Youtube and WebEx links.

MFS US – Who are we and who do we serve

The variety of programs and services that we offer are geared towards adults (including single members, empty-nesters and couples with and without children, and IR folks) as well as children and youth of all ages. We aim to serve all definitions of the modern family and we take great pride in developing, implementing and promoting a wide range of core services, programs and events that enhance the OUTCAN experience for everyone!

Many of our families live in close proximity to an MFS point of service – for example, they live near a base or where a MFSUS Staff is co-located. Of course, many families do not – they live in more isolated, smaller communities where they may be the only Canadian military family or in groups of two to ten families and these communities are referred to as “remote” communities. To reach these areas and provide service to our remote families, MFS Staff use the phone, the internet (WebEx for example), and email – all part of our virtual network.

Please ensure that you provide us with your US contact information (home/cell telephone and personal email address) so we can stay in touch through our MFS Outreach Coordinator.

MFS US offers an array of essential services such as:

- Information packages for families upon arrival,
- Frequently Asked Questions or FAQs (i.e. CRA/residency status, medical, child care etc.),
- Information and Referral to other professionals (i.e. CFMAP, FIL, Mental Health resources, US School Liaison Officer, Children’s Education Management (CEM) and local OR Clerks where appropriate.)
- Information and Referral for Employment Services (Employment Support for Spouses/Self-employed, EI and Employment Authorization Document (EAD) assistance),
- Information and Referral for Education Services both adults and children (Scholarships, Children’s Education Management referrals),
- Child Care Support (ie. options, child care list, MFS Emergency Family Care Plan, arranging emergency child care in some situations, etc),
- Personalized connections with families (phone calls, emails, newsletters, visits),
- Second Language Services for Adults (Rosetta Stone, tutoring, language clubs),
- Peer support groups, live or virtual, national and local (special interest groups like French Coffees, Virtual New Parent Support Group, Virtual Book Club, Coffee Mornings, Social Media Workshops, etc). We take your lead in establishing new programs and services.
- Social opportunities to connect and get to know other Canadians,
- Youth Programs -- location Specific (Home Alone Course, Baby Sitting Course, socialization activities),
- Welcome/Orientation Activities,
- Healthy Living activities and workshops,
- Canadian themed activities and/or events,
- Partnership activities/events with unit/base, and
- Community Development opportunities (Advisory Committee, Volunteer Program, Community Needs Assessment, Community Forum)

Partners - CDLS(W) and NORAD

CAF Members who are posted to the US normally fall under either CDLS(W) (Canadian Defence Liaison Staff – Washington DC) or NORAD (North American Aerospace Defence Command). Both CDLS(W) and NORAD (Canadian Forces Support Unit (CFSU)(Colorado Springs) produce comprehensive Welcome/Departure Books designed to ensure that the CAF member and their family have as much information as possible upon their posting to the US to assist them in their family’s transition. These are available on the CDLS(W) and NORAD websites, and are accessible by the member based on their particular affiliation. Please ensure that you have a copy for reference as these will be your “go-to guides” for the duration of your stay. Expect it to be dog-eared and tattered by the end of your posting!

The information in these books is extremely important to review and keep handy for reference as it covers just about everything you need to know about policies and procedures for an international move. The CDLS(W) website, which includes a significant amount of procedural information and to which family members have access, is invaluable throughout your posting.

Please speak to your CAF member about how to access the appropriate website. These websites are great to check throughout your posting because things change.

What’s different about a US posting?

Moving to the States seems like such an easy and fun posting with it being just across the border. We speak the same language, similar culture and most of us have been there at some point on vacation. So you may ask yourself how moving to the US could be so different from living in Canada! Well – as it turns out – there is a lot that is different, but if you are prepared for it, it can all just be part of the adventure. There are, however, some critical things that you need to think about that can make the difference between a pleasant adventure and a challenging one. Being prepared is the key so take the time to review the Welcome Books, and do your research. Your Military Family Service Staff are always there to help you and will be able to provide you with firsthand knowledge of things that you should be ready for as you prepare for and make this move.

Language Barriers

English is distinctly the predominant language in the US; however, a rising number of Francophone (some unilingual) families are being posted to the States. Some of our MFSCs are bilingual – so if you prefer to communicate in French, let us know and we will hook you up! Any Francophone families moving to the US should be aware that, depending on location, access to activities, resources and program services in French may be limited or nonexistent. We do have some bilingual staff that can assist, but preparation for this possibility is important. All families should be particularly diligent if their children have been in French or French immersion schools in Canada or if they intend for young children to eventually enter the French school system. It is essential that you are familiar with the Children’s Education Management (CEM) policies and benefits. See CEM for further details on education info and make sure you talk with one of their counsellors if you have any questions. We strive to provide some services in French, but also recommend accessing our Rosetta Stone licenses or tutoring (if applicable), for learning English to assist with your integration into the community. Contact your MFSC directly for more information.

Driving

Many of our families in the US are located in cities that are much larger than anywhere they have lived in Canada. Just FYI – the state of California has more people than Canada! This means freeways, merging lanes, fast and extensive traffic, and time spent commuting on a daily basis, all may contribute to varying levels of stress.

Families may also need to consider whether coming down with only one car is practical, especially with the lack of public transportation in some communities. Quite often, the communities where CAF families live can be quite a distance from the base/location where the member works, and in addition, the families can be quite spread out from other CAF families. Another consideration that families might want to prepare their teenagers for is the difference in age requirements for getting their learner’s and driver’s licenses. Not understanding each state’s driving and license laws may result in a delay in getting a license or even transferring your current license.

Ensure you have a valid Canadian license that is long enough to ensure you are legal to drive while you transition to your new state license, which could be a few months.

Geography

CAF families are posted to 37 different locations in the US and Thule, Greenland. Only 11 of these locations have local coordinators. As you can imagine, every state has its nuances as well as every city within a state. Things that people need to think about range from what elevation will they be living at (Colorado Springs is over 6000 feet in elevation – this may have a physical effect on some people as they acclimatize as well as effectiveness of your recipes!) to having only 5.5 hours of sunlight in mid-winter (Anchorage, Alaska – almost 18 hours of darkness in winter months).

Getting used to critters in your yard or house may seem frivolous, but if they are poisonous scorpions, snakes or alligators, you might want to know that ahead of time.

If you are living on an island or in an isolated community, how long does it take you to get back to Canada or family to get to you, and at what cost? Don’t be taken by surprise!

Climate differences such as hurricanes, tornados, earthquakes, and high levels of snowfall or rain can also have an impact on families. Heat and dryness may also be an issue. It is important that families do a little research to find out about the community they are headed to, and the best way to do that is to speak with the MFS Staff.

Cultural/Lifestyle Shock

A foreign posting is by its very definition a foreign living experience and at the risk of stating the obvious – includes a foreign culture. Culture shock, of varying degrees, is inevitable. Families will have to navigate a new living experience in many different areas.

It is easy to think, “It’s the US, we are the same - just have some trees separating us!”, but that kind of thinking may lead to frustration and unmet expectations. There are cultural differences.

Depending on the location, aspects of this cultural difference can be found in schools, churches, on the base itself, and in the general community.

The amount of time for a family to get settled can easily take 6 months or more. Living in the US and having to experience the difference in schools, weather, gun laws, and the security threat level for military families may all be things that you may encounter and are not used to.

Remember, you are going to be a guest in the US and respecting the cultural differences you encounter will enhance your experience. It is also expected of you, as you are representing Canada while here.

Social and Family Support Systems Changes

Military families move: it is part of the military lifestyle. When families move outside of Canada, the change is different because they not only leave behind their family support systems, but also the institutionalized support systems they know well - e.g. medical, dental, etc.

Having all family members consider this new reality is important to ensure a successful transition to both a new country as well as the new support systems they will be building. Things will be different from what you are used to. You need to expect that. Our MFS Staff are all military spouses living in similar situations, so we understand the new adventure your family is embarking on and are here to help you transition successfully.

Juvenile Curfew

In many states there may be a curfew for minors. Juvenile curfew laws are typically enacted at the state and local level and prohibit people of a certain age (usually under 18) from being in public or in a business establishment during certain hours. Each state will enforce these laws differently, so this may be something to keep in mind for your family. Check out your state and city rules on curfews.

Social Media Guidance

Social media security is a bit different in the US, as the US military has specific guidelines that members and their families are to follow. As families down in the US are visitors and ambassadors of Canada, we want to respect these guidelines. The added threats from different extremists are also things to consider. Some ways to protect yourself and family are;

- Never broadcast private contact information. Never list your e-mail address or phone number in any public space, such as your profile page, a blog, forums, or photo caption.
- If you are a member of a social network, pay close attention to your privacy settings, which allow you to choose how much personal information you reveal and to whom.
- Carefully consider what you publish on social networks. Before you post photos, videos, or text, ask yourself if it would make you more interesting to outside people or groups.

These are all real issues that families need to understand and ask questions about, if they have them. Again, talking with folks who have already made the plunge can be quite enlightening and helpful.

MFSUS National Resources

MFS US has spent several months creating resources that can be accessed across the US – helping make your transition to your new home easier.

Each location may have a local Facebook account that is either created by the MFSC or by the Canadian Military Component. If it's an MFS page, it will then be monitored by our staff. To get general information that is extremely helpful in the US no matter where you are, check out our National MFS US Facebook page. To be included in the local Facebook page, please contact your MFS Coordinator, as they will need to add you for security reasons. Ask us your questions and we will do our best to get you answers or direct you to the people who can.

MFSUS has developed a National Newsletter that goes to all our families on a quarterly basis via email. It is loaded with great updates, information on what is also happening in Canada that might apply to our families, links to resources such as traveling in the US, health care, and employment. Families can unsubscribe to the newsletter anytime by clicking the link at the bottom. It is best to access this newsletter using a non-DWAN computer as links are stripped on DWAN. Therefore, personal emails are best to use to sign up for this service.

If, after you arrive, you have something you want to share in the newsletter please email Tammy, MFS Outreach Coordinator, at mfs.outreach@cfmws.com and she can add it. It can be something you learned from your move, a family story such as having a baby or adopting, or something your local community did. The sky is the limit, so please feel free to share.

MFS Website

MFS launched a new Website combining the old PSP Gateway and FamilyForce websites in 2017 to provide a comprehensive portal into Canadian Forces Morale and Welfare Services for all CAF Members and their families.

On the main site, CAFConnection.ca, you will have access to all the programs and services available throughout the world. To find information specific to the United States, please choose the United States Community and then drill down to your specific state for more localized information. This site is continually updated so if there is not much information on some of our remote communities, it will be coming!

This website will be our main tool for providing families with up to date information that will help you with your posting to the US. Check it out and let us know how we can make it even better!

Be somewhat cautious relying on other people's experiences particularly when it comes to procedures, benefits and interpretations – we have found that everyone's situation is a little bit different and what applies to one person does not necessarily apply to another. Try to get information from the source where at all possible. Your CDLS(W) and NORAD Welcome books are updated every year and are very thorough as are their websites. Have your CAF member contact their Orderly Room for clarification of specific situations where appropriate. More and more information will be made available through CAFconnection.ca and our MFS newsletters as well.

PREPARE

So - are you thinking about or planning for a posting to the United States or are returning to Canada? Let us help you prepare! This section will provide you with some of the key things that you should be thinking about during this phase of your posting cycle.

MFS Support During Your Move

Families can depend on their MFSCs to help through each step of their move. We are here to make the transition a bit easier through the chaos of the papers and the “unknown”. So how can you use our services?

There are many virtual sessions and recordings available online to help you and your family transition to the US. We use a WebEx platform for our virtual programs which is accessible through any computer connected to the internet or mobile device. Unfortunately, at this time, DWAN does not support WebEx. One of the great aspects of WebEx is that even if you cannot make a live session, they are usually recorded so you can listen to it when it is convenient for you! See MFS WebEx for more information on how to access our MFSUS WebEx site.

We are always here to answer emails or phone calls with questions about your upcoming move. Do you have a specific question? Not sure who to ask or where to look? Call your MFS Coordinator. We can help - that is why we are here!

As mentioned above, some states have a local MFSC and others are supported with our MFS Outreach Coordinator. They have information and guidance to help during all aspects of the moving/relocation process. It is advised that you contact the MFS Coordinator before you arrive on your HHT not only so you can arrange a time to meet and discuss things like employment, services for child(ren), and local information, but also to get some insider information on your new location. They can also share with you all the programs, services and facilities that are available at your base, if in fact you are posted to an actual base. If not at a base, they will be able to refer you to local community resources or national programs offered by MFS.

WebEx with MFSUS

Now is the best time to connect and learn about WebEx (our Virtual Learning Platform) and what it can offer you during your move. Joanna Church, the MFS US Virtual Coordinator, has facilitated some amazing recordings including an FYI series, and live sessions to address the topics around your OUTCAN move. We also have special sessions just so you can get comfortable using the platform although it is very simple to use. We promise! Click here to see all WebEx recordings.

Here are some examples of these FYI Series sessions – even more on the site!

- Employment Authorization
- OUTCAN Taxes
- Tornado Preparedness
- Healthcare in the U.S.

Just a few Examples of other sessions and recordings for each part of your move include:

- Welcome to... All locations have a Welcome Message
- So You Are Posted to the US, Now What??? (THIS ONE IS CRITICAL FOR YOU!)
- Returning to Canada

- Cyber Bullying
- Seasonal Affective Disorder

Check in with your MFSC for a full list of all recordings and upcoming sessions or sign up for the local and/or national newsletter to be kept in the loop on upcoming or existing recorded sessions. We are only limited by our imaginations for topics that we can develop for you.

Watch for more information on CAFConnection, as we develop FAQs and WebEx Recordings.

Preparing Information Needed to Plan Your Move

As you will learn through this posting there are many steps to preparing for your move...in some areas much more than if you were doing a posting within Canada. Below you will find information that is essential to understand during your OUTCAN, as it can have serious impact on your posting.

Inventory – Preparing for the Move

Where do you begin? What do you need to include? What program do you use? These are all good questions and questions many families have.

An inventory of your Furniture and Effects (F&E) must be completed for your personal use as per the CDLS(W) and NORAD Welcome Books. It is helpful to give the driver a copy of your inventory as well for when he/she crosses the border. Recommendation – you should maintain this list throughout your posting, because it will be needed on your return to Canada. It is also recommended to begin this process as soon as you receive your posting message. The process can be long and grueling, especially if you have never created an inventory list before.

DND has a program you can access through DWAN (accessible by your member) or you can find apps for iPhone, iPad or Android or create your own through a spreadsheet application like Excel. An App that many folks have used is called “Itemizer” – it is free and gives you many options. Make sure to have the required information such as serial numbers, model numbers, dates purchased, purchase price, etc., to complete this inventory.

You do not need to be as specific as 12 blue socks & 10 white socks, but it is recommended that any high value items be itemized.

US Banking & US Currency | how does this affect my family?

There are several options to help get your banking sorted for your time in the US; however, the easiest way for many Canadians has been the use of Cross Border Banking, as it may alleviate the need to have a physical branch. If you are going to use this option, it is best to begin the process before you move. TD Bank, BMO, and RBC all have cross border banking options where they can help you manage your affairs through their banks in both countries, usually from one banking website. See your local branch before you leave Canada to get details. A great website that compares some of your options is Knights Bridge FX. This may not be feasible in all locations but nonetheless, worth looking into.

It is compulsory, as stated in the CDLS(W) and NORAD Welcome Books, that you have access to a US bank account during your House Hunting Trip (HHT) to ensure expeditious transfer of funds for pay and rent. If you choose to use a Cross Border Banking option, you can open your US accounts in Canada before you leave on your HHT through your local Canadian Branch leaving one less thing you have to do on your HHT.

It also may eliminate the need for a physical branch in your new city. If you have not chosen this option, you need to open a US bank account first thing on your HHT. Note: US “currency accounts” are different than a US “bank account”, as the routing numbers are different. So make sure when you are setting up your Cross Border Banking that you end up having a US bank account.

The CAF Members’ pay is converted into US dollars and deposited into their US bank accounts for the duration of their posting- so current exchange rates will affect these funds. Pay will not always be the same as a result of this. Current exchange rates can be found at Bank of Canada.

Your housing and utility shares are taken off the CAF member’s pay before currency conversion, so you are always paying for your portion of the rent in Canadian dollars. The NORAD or CDLS(W) Orderly Room will set up direct deposit into your US banking account for your total monthly rent allowance, which is why it is important to have a US account established on or before your HHT. Your utility reconciliation, which should be done every 6 months to a year – depending on your Orderly Room request, will also be deposited in US funds into your US bank account. So, again, you are not out any additional money due to the currency.

Plan to adjust your spending habits based on the current dollar exchange. Throughout your posting expect the income going into US accounts to change as they will have the current exchange rate applied. Yes, it may affect disposable dollars; however, you are compensated through various living expense allowances such as your Post Living Differential and your Posting Allowance. Be prepared to make financial adjustments because of the exchange rate!

To understand allowances please see the Military Foreign Service Instructions. It is a lengthy document, but has great information on benefits to you and your family during your OUTCAN posting. Have your CAF member seek clarification from their clerk if you are unsure how this will affect you.

Please also remember that it can take several months, or even years, before your credit is established in the US. One option to obtain a US dollar credit card, which has worked for other Canadians, is to get a CAA credit card (Canadian) before you leave Canada. Then once in the US, apply to have it transferred over to AAA, the US counterpart. You may also be able to use your Canadian credit with your Cross Border banking accounts and get a US credit card through your bank.

Canadian PO Box Address While in the US

In the US this address is ONLY to be used for financial related documents

It is recommended that you maintain a chequing account in a Canadian financial institution during your posting and when changing the address for all your Canadian financial institutions you will use one of the following addresses, depending on whether you are NORAD or CDLS(W):

NORAD

YOUR NAME
UNIT or CANADIAN COMPONENT
(specify location) CFSU (CS)
CFPO 5233 STN FORCES
BELLEVILLE ON K8N 5W6 CANADA

If PO Box not accepted:

YOUR NAME
UNIT or CDN COMP
CFSU (CS) CFPO 5233
15 Westin Ave
Astra, ON K0K 3W0 Canada

CDLS (W)

YOUR NAME
UNIT or CANADIAN COMPONENT
(specify location) CDLS (Washington) CFPO 5277 STN FORCES
BELLEVILLE ON K8N 5W6 CANADA

Using this address will allow you the ability to contribute to any investments in Canada, as you have to have a Canadian address to do so. Check with your financial advisor for details.

Official Passport

Every Canadian dependant will need an official passport (for most dependants, this will be a Green Passport) which must be used to enter and exit the US. This is because your Visa and your I-94 document is incorporated into the official passport. These documents are what allow you to be in the US for the duration of your stay. There are a few different types of passports depending on your posting to the US, please see the NORAD/CDLS(W) Welcome Books for further clarification.

Remember a few things:

- Your Official passport must not expire while posted OUTCAN
- When travelling within and/or to the US, you must use your Official passports. This is the only document that gives you permission to be in the US.
- Make sure you familiarize yourself with rules associated with your Official Passport. Talk to your local Orderly Room Clerk for more information.

Healthcare in the US

Understanding the Process

CAF and family members should note that accessing and paying for health care will not be as simple as they have experienced in Canada. The medical system in the US is very different than in Canada so spend some time getting to know how to maneuver through it. Your NORAD and CDLS(W) Welcome Books and Websites are the place to start your research. Make sure that your member has provided you with the books or access to the websites. It is highly encouraged that every member and spouse becomes conversant with the insurance provisions – specifically with respect to medical/hospital coverage, description of benefits, maximum allowable expenses and exclusions/limitations. If you don't you may end up with a bad experience that costs you not only time but also money. MFS runs WebEx sessions a few times a year with the experts on this, so plan to attend. See latest recording on our website under Healthcare in the US.

Information changes all the time and may be different from the time of distribution of this document, so if you have any questions that are not answered in the Welcome Books or on the CDLS(W) or NORAD websites, you should have the CAF member contact their Orderly Room or families can contact Staff Officer Health Administrations, at CDLS(W): Tel : 202-448-6559 / Email CDLS\(W\) Medical Admin - / Fax: 202-448-6438. They are there to help you with processes and procedures as well as claims. More details can be found in Healthcare in the US with links to additional resources.

Closer to your move date will be the time to change your Public Service Health Care Plan (PSHCP) / Sun Life Insurance to "Comprehensive Coverage" for OUTCAN. This is now done by both the CAF member notifying the Orderly Room and the member/family updating the Positive Enrollment form with Sun Life. You can update Sun Life via the SUN LIFE website by creating an online account, if you do not have one already or by phone. See Sun Life Customer Support.

Tips & Tricks: Reminder: be very careful when taking specific advice from friends, acquaintances, and Facebook threads because every situation is different and the solution may not be the same in your case or in your area. Your best bet is to seek advice from the staff at CDLS(W) and NORAD who are dedicated to this issue. The CAF member may need to make the contact.

Preparing Healthcare Documents

Getting copies of your family's health records is really important, as a lot of US doctors will delay seeing you until they receive these documents. If you leave it to the doctors to coordinate this can potentially take a lot of time! Your children may need to see a US doctor before school starts, so keep that in mind. Paying for medical copies may be a reimbursable expense through Brookfield Relocation (IRP). Check the Relocation Directive – Section 9.4.04 Medical and dental. Keep your copies because you may need proof of something already done and if you give them up, you have to start over. An example of this is your children's vaccinations – the dates are written differently, which confuses some folks in the US. If you have your records you can verify information versus your child getting more vaccines. See the CDC Site for Vaccination Schedules – for both adults and children.

Medical Checkups and Health Documents Preparation

Ensuring you have the proper health checkup and documentation at the right time of your move is essential to feeling prepared and not overwhelmed with the process. As we all know running around for the required last minute details takes up more of our time when we do not have it. Your family's needs will ultimately decide when you make the appointments and obtain the documentation.

However, this section gives you something to think about when preparing for your HHT and leaving Canada to officially begin your OUTCAN posting.

Immunization for children is one of those items you may want to make sure you at least have their records with you on your HHT because schools will require proof a certain vaccinations. You are probably thinking this was taken care of during your screening and will not affect your family....however, schools may require different vaccinations than the US government.

Everyone arriving in the US, who will be attending a school, day care, preschool etc., must possess an up-to-date immunization record to register your child for any school program in the US. Each state in the US has their own requirements for school age children -- attending school and/or day cares. For vaccines, the issue is not the type of vaccines, but the timeline in which they are given. Much like in Canada, where each province has its own timeline, the US has theirs as well. This is usually enforced within the first 6 months of school, so you may need to address this as soon as you get to your new city. Check out this website to see what is required in your state - Vaccinations

Some examples with regard to differences are;

1. Vaccination discrepancy such as Hep B, which is given to infants in the US while given to older children in Canada.
2. Physicals and medical checkups may also be required for your school. For example, in New York State, it is required not only to have a physical by a NY doctor, but also to have a dental checkup – this again requires you to find a doctor and dentist right away!

You may want to plan a trip to the school nurse on your HHT to ask what is required. And don't forget to ask what the timeline is to become compliant so that your child doesn't get excluded from class.

Optical & Dental Visits (doesn't have to be before HHT)

It is also recommended that you and your family visit an Optometrist and the Dentist before you leave Canada to address any potential needs. These services in Canada are usually much lower in price. It is recommended that if glasses or contacts are required for the family, consideration should be given to obtaining them prior to departing Canada, where costs are generally lower. So whether you do that before your HHT or before your move – you may just want to schedule it into your “things to do” list. Also note, some schools may require proof of these check ups for registration.

Tips & Tricks: If your new dentist requires you to have a New Patient Checkup/dental exam check with Brookfield as this may be a reimbursable expense. See in CAF Integrated Relocation Directive sec 9.4.04 Medical and dental

Children’s Education Management (CEM)

Our children’s education is always a top priority, affecting where we choose to live and whether or not we accept postings, move our family or possibly opt to send the CAF member on Imposed Restriction (IR). Needless to say, it’s a pretty big issue families face. For your children, the impact can be even greater as they transition in and out of different education systems.

Children's Education Management supports the educational needs of Canadian Armed Forces families in a variety of situations both inside and outside Canada. Overseen by Military Family Services, under Canadian Forces Morale and Welfare Services, their programs and services are designed to lessen the potential impact frequent relocation has on schooling.

At CEM, they strive to ensure children’s education, which is provided without charge in Canada, is compatible when families are posted to one of over 250 locations outside Canada.

CEM manages the education allowances to ensure that dependent children obtain the same quality of education regardless of the province or country they may be posted to. They have recently implemented a Guidance Counselor service which ensures Canadian children have awareness of and access to the classes required to get into Canadian Universities. They are also very aware of special challenges you may encounter using the education system in the US.

- For children with last names A-K – Contact Andrea Smith at 613-790-7657.
- For children with last names L-Z – Contact Carolle Coloumbe at 613-943-1440.

For more information, review their website CEM Information. Have the member contact his/her Orderly Room CEM clerk for additional information.

Preparing for your Child(ren)’s Education

As of 2016, CEM meets with posted out CAF members about their children’s educational needs during the screening process. It is important to be aware of this meeting and be prepared to ask your questions and really understand what your children will face with a move to the US. Contacting Children’s Education Management (CEM) for any special requirements is critical – CEM is a wealth of information and guidance and can help with any specific questions you may have. Some of the documents you will need are your child(ren)’s most recent report card, birth certificates, baptismal certificates if they are attending a Catholic school in the US, immunization records, and dental records. CEM also has a wealth of information in their FAQs, which you can read on the website CEM FAQs.

Most US Family Readiness Centers in the US also have a School Liaison Officer who can assist with local requirements and information. Contact your MFS Coordinator for more information.

Contact Schools for Children's Education on House Hunting Trip

- Some great questions to ask your new school:
- Does the school require any medical checkups before school starts?
- Does the school offer Jr./Pre Kindergarten?
- Do you follow Common Core? What is Common Core?
- Ask the school, but also check out Common Core
- How many children do you have in the school? Each class?
- Are the children bussed to school? If so, what is the name of the bus company? (this will allow you to contact the bus company to see what time they will pick up your children and from where)
- What is this school's approach to student discipline and safety? Approach to "bullying"?
- How is technology used to support teaching and learning at this school?
- What extracurricular opportunities (sports, clubs, community service, and competitions) are available for students?
- What strategies are used to teach students who are not fluent in English?
- Do you have recess? How long & how often during the day?
- What are your Truancy laws and how are they enforced?

Something to think about: If attending fee-paying school, do you have approval to do so from CEM for reimbursement? Also, that house you are considering to rent, is it within a location that has Jr/Pre Kindergarten opportunities if not within the public school?

Child Care

Finding child care in your new community may be challenging depending on where you are posted. You may find limited choices and those that you do find may not operate the same way as you have come to expect in Canada. You will have to manage your expectations in some communities. The message here is to prepare yourself for this.

Check in with your designated MFSC to see what options might be available to you. They may have information on local service providers, references from other Canadians, and other community resources that they can refer you to. They will also be familiar with options that may be available to you on the base where your CAF member is working.

For those families who have two parents in the work force, there may be potential benefits to assist with the higher daycare costs. Please read the Military Foreign Service Instruction \(MFSI\), Section 11 for further details.

MFS Emergency Child Care (ECC)

Military families who require short-term emergency child care, due to their unique lifestyle combined with a breakdown of their Emergency Family Care Plan, may solicit support from their Military Family Service Coordinator (MFSC). MFSCs will assess their particular need and eligibility on a case-by-case basis. If supported, an MFSC may subsidize a family's Emergency Child care request through direct child care services, expense reimbursement or through the coordination of independent child care services on a short term basis. A military family may be eligible for up to 96 hours of subsidized child care, or in special circumstances, reimbursement for child care expenses. If a military family requires more than 96 hours of child care, the situation will be assessed on an individual basis and approved or not accordingly. In an OUTCAN posting, it may be more cost effective to fly a family member down to the US to provide care in extreme emergencies. All Emergency Child care expenditures must be preapproved by the Senior Manager, MFSUS.

In order to access emergency child care, the family must submit an MFS Emergency Family Care Plan (different from the Family Care Plan required by the Military) to the MFSC upon your arrival (See Family Care Plan). This should be provided at the beginning of your posting when your CAF member clears in through the MFS Staff, as it helps the MFS staff respond in the case of an emergency. The idea is that MFS is there to help when a family's care plan (a requirement by the military for all CAF families) fails. Information in the MFS Emergency Family Care Plan (as well as the military family care plan) is kept confidential and only used in the case of emergency. It is protected in accordance with the Privacy act.

Automobile Info & License History

Get a copy of your automobile insurance before you leave. Contact your current insurance company in Canada and request a copy of your insurance history. (You will have to do this when you return home to Canada as well). This information may be required to obtain a better insurance rate at your new location. It is also helpful to create a list of all your insurance needs to bring with you to the insurance office. Automobile insurance template is available in Annex C for your use.

It is also important to obtain a copy of your Driver's Abstract (driving history) from Canada. Go to either your vehicle/license registry office or your local police station and ask for a drivers' abstract. The cost may vary based on province, but this may also be reimbursable through Brookfield (IRP) – check CAF Integrated Relocation Directive – Sec 9.4.03 PMV including motorcycle and drivers licenses. Keep your receipt! Ensure you do this at least 2 weeks prior to your move, as it may take some time to receive the information. (You will have to do this when you return home to Canada as well).

Make sure your vehicle is registered in the member's name. Ensuring the vehicles are in the member's name before you cross the border will exempt you from the Vehicle & Personal Property Tax, which is a tax on tangible movable property. If the vehicles are registered only in the spouse's name, it will be subject to this personal property tax.

Code of Service Discipline in the US

Why is this in the Family Guide? How does it apply to the CAF's family members? Family members accompanying their CAF military member are also subject to/bound by the code while posted to any OUTCAN posting. This is different than in Canada. When your family is in the US they are representing Canada and with that comes a certain degree of responsibility. To read more about the code see the Queen's Queen's Regulations and Orders (QR&Os) Section 102.01.

Absence from Post

There is clear direction in the Military Foreign Service Instruction (MFSI) when there is an absence from post by a family member and this will have an effect on your OUTCAN benefits. General policy is if you are gone from your post for more than 25 days, your OUTCAN benefits will be interrupted for a period of time for all additional days away. The CAF member needs to advise the OR clerk. Some sections to read are listed, but there may be more so be sure to ask your Chain of Command before planning a trip longer than 25 days.

10.2.09(4) Temporary absence during Mat/Pat Leave (use MFSI link above)

- 10.3.04(8) Member absent from post (use MFSI link above)
- 10.3.04(11) Dependent absent from post (use MFSI link above)

Moving with Pets

You will need records for your pets moving to the US. The border will require proof of vaccinations and wellness. To verify exactly what is required, check out US Department of Agriculture. Also, be sure to check specific details for your type of pet, as some pets may require an Importation License.

Remember to check if your hotel accepts pets! Check out this site to help find Pet Friendly Hotels - PetsWelcome.com.

Requirements vary by state and city. For example, Hawaii requires a quarantine period for your pet. To avoid problems, take the time to verify the necessary requirements for moving your pet.

Utilities

In most situations, your hydro, gas, water, and waste disposal fees are covered by DND; however, you are required to pay a utility share which is based on your family size, home size and rank. This is determined by the Orderly Room using Treasury Board formulae. You will need to submit an estimate of your monthly utility bills and that amount is deposited into your bank account each month. Keep a copy of your bills and settle the difference between your estimate and the actual charges annually (at a minimum), or as required by your applicable Orderly Room.

You may want to talk to other families to determine your options for utility providers in your community.

ARRIVE

You have now arrived to your new city and it is so exciting, but possibly completely overwhelming too. This is understandable, and you are not alone in this feeling. Below you will find information that will be of assistance to you and your family to establish the necessary documents and supports at your new post. Should you ever have difficulty with these items please feel free to reach out to your MFS Coordinator or your member can reach out to his/her Orderly Room for further assistance.

US Documents

In order for spouses and children to receive identification cards there may be a few hoops to jump through. So how do you get these and where do you start? First you should know, it is highly recommended that you apply for your Employment Authorization Document (EAD) even if you do not plan to work; this is free for military families. Why, you ask? You will need your EAD to show proof of employment eligibility for Employment Insurance in Canada and to volunteer in the US with certain institutes. Also with your EAD, you can get a Social Security Number (SSN). The SSN is the equivalent to your Social Insurance Number (SIN) back in Canada. Having a SSN makes life a bit easier in the states, for things such as applying for credit cards or getting a cell phone.

Note: Although there may be some difference from state to state, normally, the following sections apply. It's always good to check with the MFSC in your location to confirm local requirements.

Remember – they have been through this already and could help.

So where do you start?

Military Dependents' ID Card

Your Military Dependand ID card goes by many different names, such as Common Access Card (CAC), DEERS card, Mil ID, Military Dependent ID, and U.S. Uniformed Services Identification and Privilege Card. The Military member will refer to their card as the CAC card or Common Access Card. As the family member(s), you will have a Uniformed Services ID Card. To see the different CAC cards/ Uniformed Services ID Card check out this link - Example of Cards. Check your base to see at what age dependents get their own card, as each location is a bit different.

With this card (Uniformed Services ID Card), you should be enrolled in the Defense Enrollment and Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS), please verify at time of registration. The registration into DEERS is the key to getting your TRICARE (medical) benefits established and to access the Medical Treatment Facilities (MTF) on the US bases (also note, you will need to also register at the MTF). It is also your identification card during your stay in the US allowing you access to the base and base services, and resources such as the MWR (Morale, Welfare and Recreation), Readiness Centres, commissary, gyms, pools and as well as other facilities. You can also use it to obtain online services and/or discounts at restaurants and stores, and services in the local community.

This card is available to you if you have been posted to a military base. The member will have to be present when family members apply for the card and it is recommended that this be completed when applying for the member's ID, as it must be obtained from the base. *Please note, children under 10 will not get their own physical ID card. You just present your ID for medical visits or access to base facilities.

Take note that you can also use your CFAppreciation card with some civilian companies in the US and for services online (especially travel discounts) so make sure you don't forget about it while you are out of Canada.

Employment Authorization Document (EAD)

Getting an Employment Authorization Card (EAD) is not as hard as some people think. DND has some great staff members working on this to help you through the process. See MFS's EAD FAQ on the process and required documents.

The process to get your EAD now has a step to also get your Social Security Card. Make sure to confirm with the staff member assisting you in your application process. If you do not get it at the same time you can go to the Social Security office and get your US Social Security Number after you get your EAD.

Social Security Number (SSN)

You may need to visit your local Social Security office – Locate an office. You may also get your SSN when you go through the EAD process. Please confirm with the military representative assisting you with the EAD application process.

Tip: If you intend to work or volunteer in the US, apply for your EAD first, as soon as you arrive at your new US address. You cannot apply for it until you move down for good. Once you receive it, then apply for your Social Security Number.

If you do not intend to work, volunteer, or claim EI in Canada during your time in the US, you can go to the local Social Security Administration Office and apply for a "letter of non-eligibility" which will allow you to present this to banks or DMVs in place of your social security number.

If you have an SSN from a previous posting to the US, you may use it only for non-employment related matters. If you intend on working or volunteering, you must apply for an EAD first.

All dependents need their own EAD to receive their own SSN...!

Local Driver's License & Registration of Vehicles

State to state requirements will differ for driver's licenses, registration of vehicles, and license plates. It is advised to check your local state requirements before heading down to the Department of Motor Vehicle or the Tag Agency, or any other name of the office where you get your driver's licenses (they can be different) to register your vehicles. Some states may even require you to go to two different offices before you can complete the process of getting your license. Check out DMVUSA to locate the correct department in your new city. Don't be surprised if this ends up taking a full day to get it all sorted away.

Also note- if you are getting your EAD to get your SSN and want to wait to get your driver's license, make sure to find out what the state's requirement is regarding the amount of time you have to transfer over your license. Example, some states only give you three months to transfer your license from a different state/country to their state without a penalty. An EAD can take several weeks to obtain.

Employment Topics

Employment Insurance from Canada (EI)

When moving outside of Canada, spouses or dependents may be covered by Canada's EI system. You must open a claim in the location from which you worked no later than 4 weeks from the last day worked; the sooner the better.

Please check the EI FAQ for more details. You must be willing and able to work in the U.S. to collect EI. In order to be able to work in the US, you must have your EAD. Common Law spouses are not eligible to receive their EAD through military support, as they are in the US on a visitor's visa (B2), but they can choose to apply for their EAD on their own if they choose to. Note, the US government does not recognize Common Law which is why they do not support the process through military support.

Common Law spouses cannot claim EI because they are generally unable to work legally in the US.

Healthcare Program for Canadians OUTCAN

Navigating our healthcare program is a complicated process and can be somewhat overwhelming for families! There is a lot more paperwork and more oversight needs to be provided by the family.

Please ensure you read over this section very carefully and if you have any questions to reach out before you or your family has an illness.

Below you will find information on the "who, what, and how" for the medical process. If you have any additional questions you can reach out to the MFSC for basic information or applicable contact information, your member can contact their Orderly Room or you can call CDLS(W) – Staff Officer Health Administrations, at CDLS Washington: Tel : 202- 448-6559 / Email CDLS\(W\) Medical Admin / Fax: 202-448- 6438. Also remember, the CDLS(W) website has a wealth of information on it CDLS\(W\).

On most military bases, there are hospitals and medical clinics, which are called Military Treatment Facilities (MTF). Please note, not all bases have both clinics and hospital(s); confirm ahead of time which ones are on your base. Also note, if you are a CAF member that is not issued a Common Access Card (CAC) during your family's OUTCAN posting you will not have access to MTFs.

In the majority of situations, the following applies for your family's health care needs:

- If you have a base and there is an MTF, you can choose to use the MTF for dependants and TRICARE is used. No paperwork required except your Military Dependant ID. Procedures and prescriptions obtained on base are free. This is by far the easiest way to go.
- If you have a base with an MTF and the MTF refers you off the base because the MTF cannot perform a particular procedure there or require a specialist, Allianz will be the insurer for 100% of the cost.
- If you have a base and there is an MTF, you can choose not to use the MTF and use a care provider in the local community, but TRICARE will no longer be involved. Allianz will be your sole and primary insurer.

- If you have a base or the member is assigned to a military installation, but there is no MTF you will have to use a community provider and Allianz will be your sole and primary insurance provider.
- If your CAF member has not been issued a CAC card during your families OUTCAN posting you can only use Allianz as you have no access to TRICARE.
- Children dependents (under 21, or under 25 enrolled in an accredited full time educational institution) will also be covered fully by Allianz and should no longer use their provincial health insurance.

Who Is TRICARE and Allianz?

TRICARE

TRICARE is a major part of the US Military Health System that combines the resources of military hospitals and clinics with civilian health care networks.

For TRICARE coverage, your Military Dependent ID card will be your form of identification to access TRICARE and you must be registered in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS). You will also need to register you and your family at the base MTF to use any services. The number on the back of this card, Benefit Number, is your TRICARE benefit ID number.

Tips and Tricks: It is highly recommended that you register with your Local MTF once you arrive if you plan to use an MTF – do it before you or your family gets sick or needs medical care!

Visit TRICARE website for further information on coverage

Understanding your benefits and coverage can be confusing and frustrating, especially if there are limited services on your base. Tricare does have a Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinator (BCAC) at each location. They are there to help you navigate the system. To find yours, check out BCAC Locator with Tricare.

Allianz Global Assistance (Allianz)

Public Service Health Care Plan (PSHCP) is one of the largest private health care plans in Canada, providing benefits to over 600,000 Plan members and their dependents. Sun Life is responsible for the administration of claims under the Public Service Health Care Plan as well as positive enrollment for plan members in Canada. Allianz is the company contracted to administer the PSHCP comprehensive coverage for plan members who are residing or traveling abroad.

If you are paying $4.01, then you are on Comprehensive level 3 coverage with Allianz Global for your dependents and should be covered up to OHIP standard (as a general rule). Basically, if something is covered under OHIP then Allianz should cover it (up to 3 times the OHIP rate).

When using Allianz, whenever possible, try to have your doctor bill Allianz directly. Use the address below to give to your doctor because they may not have it;

Allianz Claim Form – the Comprehensive Form through Sun Life

PSHCP Maximum Eligible Expenses Coverage - PSHCP Insurance Coverage and Rates

IMPORTANT NOTE - Allianz Global Assistance is your PRIMARY and SOLE insurance provider for civilian dependents when they get seen outside a Military Treatment Facility (MTF). Allianz may not pay bills as a secondary insurance if Tricare has already paid a part of it. This is important because Allianz is always your primary and sole insurance provider, even in the case your dependent is referred out to a civilian facility by a MTF and Tricare has approved payment. If Tricare does pay as your primary insurance, there is a chance that Allianz will deny your claim and won't pay out as a secondary insurance. The CAF is able to cover the R70 rejection code from Allianz, but not any codes from Tricare. This is important because you will have the greatest chance of getting a 100% reimbursement if you only go through Allianz Global for all dependent care outside the MTF.

Tips & Tricks: Since Allianz is considered a Travel Insurance company in the US, it is recommended to ask the doctor's office to check for this insurance company in their "Commercial Billing" List or "World Access" listing. It is not a traditional insurance provider. If you or your provider call Allianz for any reason, ensure you ask for a representative trained in comprehensive coverage.

Additional Claims Information with Allianz (Sun Life)

Claims package received by Allianz do not get reimbursed in the currency the claim was paid in unless requested by the plan member. This policy is not only for military families in the USA, but all around the world therefore, payment in Canadian currency is assumed unless directed otherwise. Electronic funds transfer (EFT) can be set up with Sun Life to have Canadian payments deposited directly to your Canadian chequing account.

Plan members may be reimbursed by cheque in American funds; however, this will need to be noted on the front page of the claim forms. A wire transfer may be performed to an American bank if a void cheque is supplied; however, banking fees may be charged and this will be the plan member's responsibility.

The currency conversion rate is an Allianz internal rate based on the date the services were performed. The plan member may submit a copy of their credit card or bank statement showing the charge and Allianz will use that exchange rate. Please note Allianz will not accept a cash withdrawal charge on the same day services were performed as a rate of exchange. The statement must show the actual provider charge on the statement.

Medical Referrals

You have been referred to a specialist off base...NOW WHAT? Families have had lot of complications with this process. Once you leave the base, your primary insurance company is Allianz, so things can get complicated!

Some families will receive a referral document, and some will receive a “script” for the referral. Either way, you need a document stating the MTF doctor has referred you to a specialist. Make sure they give you a copy of this document before you leave the office! Yes, they will send it to the doctor they are referring you to, but you may need it later on for your medical claim.

It is then advised – right after you get the referral - that you email Allianz and a confirmation of coverage for the visit. Make sure to email because this gives you a paper trail to support your medical bills.

Then contact the doctor and give them the billing information for Allianz – click here for info – be sure to remind them they can use the electronic billing ID to help them get paid faster!

Medical / Dental Advances

Medical procedures can be extremely expensive in the US. To obtain a medical advance, the CAF member should contact their Orderly Room for assistance. Remember, the purpose of the advance is to ensure families do not experience any hardships due to their medical bills.

Prescriptions

For family members, prescription medications can be two to three times higher in cost compared to Canada. Family members requiring long-term medications may find this aspect a bit of a financial burden, and although options exist to relieve CAF families of this, this issue should be carefully considered during the screening process for your OUTCAN posting.

In addition, members and their families should note that some medications might not be available in the US, which may necessitate changing the prescription upon the recommendation of the US physician.

Only US physician prescriptions will be filled in the US. You cannot have a Canadian prescription filled in the US.

Whenever possible, CAF members and their family should consider filling their prescriptions at the Military Treatment Facility (MTF) as the prescriptions are free at these locations. Through a public pharmacy you would use Allianz, which will require you to pay out of pocket and submit a claim to Allianz directly; the same process as in Canada.

Dental Care & Billing

All dental care for spouses and children of the CAF member must be arranged with a local provider with billing to either the member or to Great West Life (GWL). Family members are to claim through Great West Life, as they do in Canada. The form is exactly the same, including the requirement of the member’s original signature being needed in three locations on each form – Remember to note payment needs to be made in US dollars (USD). Your dentist can mail this in for you and then bill the balance after they receive payment, as GWL will mail payments directly to the dentist. Make sure to ask your dentist before services are done. You need original signatures on the claim form for each visit.

There will likely be a portion of the bill that is the member's responsibility, as it is in Canada. This dollar amount is the 1) co-payment obligation, 2) billing over the maximum entitlement under the policy for certain services and/or 3) the yearly deductible. There is no change to the entitlements or claim process for Great West Life from when you were in Canada. Only the "excess dental" amount as stated on the excess dental letter is claimable through the CAF. Excess Dental is the cost over the comparison cost between the two countries – which is completed by GWL. Excess Dental is reimbursable through your Orderly Room.

It is strongly recommended that family members obtain a treatment plan, including a quote for the cost, for any significant dental work and submit it to Great West Life to find out what the reimbursement will be as well as what the member's responsibility will be. This would apply to treatments such as orthodontic work.

Optical

For family members, optical services in the US can be costly and your insurance coverage with Sun Life will be the same as in Canada. Insurance coverage can provide some relief, but the out of pocket expenses will most likely be higher for the family.

Medical coverage while traveling

If a family member requires medical attention while traveling- you can either pay for the service yourself and submit a claim later or you can ask to have the bill sent to Allianz Global Assistance. If the hospital, clinic, or physician is reluctant to do so, they can contact Allianz Global Assistance at 1-800- 363-1835 to confirm that the insurance company will pay for the service.

Medical Billing Process

This is where life gets crazy! Again, no worries, we are going to walk you through it and are available to help answer questions if needed. Please contact your local MFSC.

IF you have access to a Military Treatment Facility (MTF) or a Base Hospital

You should use this facility. You will use your Military Dependant ID Card as your ID and the military will take care of the bills. If you should receive a bill, please notify the Staff Officer of Health Administration in CDLS\(W\) as this should not be happening.

IF you have an MTF and CHOOSE or are REFERRED to a private health care provider

You can do this, but your ONLY insurance will then be Allianz. You would give the doctor the billing information (listed above) and they can direct bill. You will NOT use TRICARE insurance for any part of that visit.

IF you DO NOT have an MTF and you are posted to a Military Installation

You are in a unique situation. You will use Allianz as your primary insurance.

Remember, you may have to educate your health care provider on Allianz – they can use the Electronic Billing ID if Allianz is not listed in their system – and don't forget to have them check their Commercial Medical Provider List or the World Access List.

In the event your Health Provider refuses direct billing to Allianz and they insist you pay up front, you can pay and then seek reimbursement from Allianz. However, if you have a little lead time, it is recommended that you submit the treatment plan to Allianz via email to ensure coverage levels. Getting a Medical advance (if the bill is over $400 USD) from the CAF (SO Health Admin) to pay the bill is also an option if direct billing Allianz is not an option. If you run into any issues with billing, please email Allianz and provide your certificate number.

Submission and Compensation of Medical Claims via Allianz Global Assistance

Once the invoice has been paid, the original invoices should be submitted to Allianz Global Assistance. Please note that the proper form for out-of-the country (comprehensive) coverage must be used. Ensure copies of the invoices are retained for your records. Processing time is usually 3-6 weeks. The form is available from the PSHCP website.

Once Allianz pays their portion, you should get an "Explanation of Benefits (EOB)" letter from Allianz and a bill for a portion of the visit or procedure from the doctor that was not covered by Allianz. The "Explanation of Benefits" letter will have an "R70 Code" at the bottom.

R70 Codes on Explanation of Benefits Letter from Allianz Global Assistance

R70 codes on the EOB are reimbursable. PSHCP is only obligated to pay up to 3 times the approved OHIP rate for that service. When the cost of the service is fully insured in Canada, the Military Foreign Service Instructions provide the authority to compensate the full value of the R70 amount, thereby providing 100% reimbursement. No other codes (R72, R74, S29, UB03, etc.) are reimbursable. The R70 is claimed through CDLS(W) by completing the requisite CF52 Dependent Medical Expenses available through the medical admin at CDLS(W). The signed and dated CF52 is attached to the original EOBs and proof of payment and sent to this office for processing. If you have taken a medical/dental advance, any cheques received from Allianz Global should be mailed to this office (unendorsed) and they will be applied to the advance along with any R70 claim amounts.

If the member has a local Orderly Room (OR) – To get these additional costs recovered, the member will need to bring the letter showing the R70 code to his/her OR. You will need to prove this bill has been paid, whether you pay it and then submit the R70 to the Orderly Room or pay it after you receive the funds from the military. Be sure to keep proof of the payment for your records. If you have a standing medical advance on a doctor's visit or procedure, make sure to bring all necessary documents to the Orderly Room to close the claim. Bring the Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from Allianz if they paid a portion and left a balance and bring any payments you made/received to the Orderly Room to complete the claim process.

For a more detailed description of the R70, check out the CDLS\(W\) website – Ask your member for the login information or contact your MFS Coordinator.

Required Immunizations (School, sports teams, scheduled)

Allianz treats required immunizations as a prescription and therefore only covers them at 80%. The remaining 20% for required immunizations only is reimbursable through the CAF following the same R70 claim process described above. Be sure to include documentation showing the amount claims relates to an immunization (e.g. Itemized statement/invoice). If you have access to a MTF we highly recommend using their services for immunization as they will be provided free of charge.

CONNECT

So you have arrived here in the US, you have taken care of a number of important procedural things that you needed to get in place and now it is time to connect with your community and start enjoying this new adventure. We invite you to read this section to see how you can connect with the MFS Staff, both those local as well as our National Team; other Canadian Families; your US Base if you have one and how you can use it; and then branching out into your new local Community to see what it has to offer.

Volunteering with Military Family Services (MFS) USA

Volunteering leads to personal growth and development, and to community engagement, both of which are key MFS goals. Opportunities exist throughout the MFS Program (MFSP) for meaningful volunteer involvement – on Advisory Committees, supporting program/event delivery, and/or simply hosting a coffee gathering. MFS supports volunteer leadership involvement through training, orientation, evaluation, and recognition. We also encourage volunteering within your new community. Remember, you may need to get your Employment Authorization Document (EAD) before you can volunteer for some organizations.

Community Involvement

When members of a community are actively engaged in the life of their community, the community as a whole benefits – which is wonderful for the volunteer and your fellow Canadian families! See your MFSC to find out what is needed within your local community, or virtual community.

Advisory Committee

MFS Advisory Committees in the US are similar yet different from the MFRC Boards of Directors you may have known about in Canada. They comprise at least 51% civilian spouses of full-time serving CAF members and are nominated and appointed by the CAF community served by the MFS. They are supported by the MFS Coordinator and a Commanding Officer's (CO) representative, called a Military Representative or sometimes an OPI (Office of Primary Interest). We have 11 MFS Advisory Committees in the US, located where we have staff.

Military Family Advisory Committee (MFAC) members play a strong role in the effective planning, delivery and evaluation of MFS services offered in their location (in accordance with national-level policies and standards of practice). Unlike a Board of Directors, advisory committee members are not legally responsible for the program however they act in an advisory capacity to the Military Family Services Coordinator (MFSC) for their region. The MFSC works together with the Advisory Committee and shares responsibility for the successful delivery of programs. We encourage anyone interested in helping to make a difference in your community to join us by contacting the MFSC in your region.

Even if you are from a remote community but want to become involved representing your area – give us a call!

Military Family Services Advisory Committee (MFAC)

The committee comprises various positions including the chairperson, vice chairperson, secretary, military representative and members.

How to Become a Volunteer with the MFS Advisory Committee

- Contact your local or regional MFSC or a current MFAC member and indicate your interest.
- An information package will be provided.
- After reviewing the information package, interested individuals complete an Application Form where they are asked to briefly outline their interests and reasons for joining the MFSC Advisory Committee.
- Members are asked to provide basic personal information prior to assuming their responsibilities.

Emergency Family Plan

Most of us think, “That won’t happen to us!” but what if it does?? One of the most important considerations of family readiness is to ensure that your family is taken care of during times of emergencies and deployment. The Detachment/Unit is always your first place to find assistance, but MFS is also here to help. It is recommended to contact the MFS for your location to discuss your MFS Emergency Family Care Plan.

Military Family Care Plan (FCP)

The DND Family Care Plan (FCP), form DND 2886-E (11-2012) CLF 2.0, is administered by local units and ensures that all CAF members have a plan in place to care for their family in the event of a family emergency, emergency callout, or planned deployment. The FCP is not a legally binding contract, but rather an exchange of information between the member and the Chain of Command, to assist in improving individual and unit operational effectiveness.

The DND Family Care Plan: all military members must file one

- is kept on the member’s personal file,
- is protected in accordance with the Privacy act and
- makes Commanding Officers aware of any potential difficulties a member may encounter when faced with a deployment.

Members should review and amend their FCP when:

- initially reporting to their new unit,
- their family situation changes and
- during the deployment preparation process.

Please check with your spouse to make sure they have updated their Family Care Plan and resubmit to the Orderly Room upon arrival at your new post.

MFS Emergency Family Care Plan (EFCP)

The MFS Emergency Family Care Plan (MFS EFCP) (Yes – another one but it IS very different!) is a more detailed plan to help families during family emergencies, emergency callout or planned deployment. We are asking each family to complete this form when OUTCAN so that we can assist you when necessary. You will receive the MFS EFCP when you contact the MFS Coordinator for your location in person, by phone or email. Although much of the information may be similar to the Military FCP, the MFS Coordinator does not have access to that FCP unless the CAF member checks the box to share it with the MFSC, we may not get it in a timely manner and the information is not as comprehensive as in the MFS Emergency Family Care Plan. The information provided in the Military FCP is basic information helpful to the Chain of Command. The information requested in the MFS EFCP is more detailed and compliments the Military FCP so that we can better support your family and/or family members should the need arise and is protected in accordance with the Privacy act.

Although submitting this form to MFS is entirely optional, MFS does require the MFS EFCP in order to assist your family in the case of an emergency. With this information on file, we can arrange children pickups when necessary and requested, deal with pets and it is also required in order to fund and provide Emergency and Respite Child care.

Tips and Tricks: Make sure your MFS Emergency Family Care Plan is one that can be implemented if need be. You should not have people back in Canada as the primary care providers. If something should happen to both the military member and the spouse, you need someone in the US who can step in right away. If you are unsure of how this will be used or how to develop your plan, contact the MFSC who can help you.

Your Base

Installation

To find out information on your Base:

<http://www.mybaseguide.com/>

This amazing website is your guide to your new city and base. It has fantastic information on not only base programs and services, but also what is happening locally, like school information.

<https://installations.militaryonesource.mil/>

Here you can search by the name of the base or by the specific program you are looking for. US bases have a wealth of resources from child care to employment assistance to programs and services. As Canadians we are entitled to use most of the services on base with our dependent ID card. If for some reason you are told you are not eligible, please let your MFS Coordinator know so they can try to rectify the situation.

Commissary

This website has lots of resources from coupons, healthy recipes, local store flyers, and links to other great resources.

Your New City

Finding your way through your new city can be overwhelming in some cities, but here are some great resources to learn about your city before you head out and explore it!

Web/Online Resources

<http://www.city-data.com/>

This website has information on weather, population, school profiles, and a city guide which has information on restaurants, festivals, and events happening in most cities. This site even has Canadian cities for when you move back!

<http://www.schooldigger.com/>

This is a great site to learn more about the schools in your district.

<http://www.211.org/>

211.org is a website designed to help find Emergency Resources in your local city. This is not fully developed in the US or Canada yet so information may be limited. It lists confidential services and programs that you can reach out to in times of need. Such services may include Mental Health resources, Disaster Assistance, and Crisis & Emergency.

Support from Canada

<https://www.cafconnection.ca/United-States>

CAFconnection is the official website for Military Family Services. It has links to the individual MFS & MFRCs sites in and out of Canada. As of January 2017, CAFconnection will also include information from PSP, Health Promotions, CEM, and SISIP. It is user friendly and full of wonderful, updated information for all members of the family – single, CAF member, spouses, children, and families without children and empty nesters!!!

Family Information Line

Family Information Line 1-800-866-4546 (offered through MFS in Canada) is available to CAF Members and their families posted anywhere throughout North America.

MFS US Virtual Social Worker/Support Counsellor

In early 2018, based on needs identified, MFS US added a new position of Virtual Social Worker. Our current Social Worker is available for all CAF families posted to the US and is available by phone, skype or webex (online meeting platform). All contact is private and confidential and appointments can be made by calling 867-873-0700 ext. 6845 or emailing <mailto:psi.mfrc@northwestel.net>

SETTLE

Once you are connected, what do you need to think about to really settle in to your new community? Are you planning to work? Have you got child care plans in place? What questions can we answer through our FAQs and website? Time to explore how to make the most of your posting!

Finding a Job in the US

Finding a job should not feel like a daunting task...there are many resources available to you during your posting. MFS has a FAQ on potential support available to you from Brookfield (IRP), US base services, and online resources. Take a look – Employment Support for Spouses FAQ. US Family Readiness Centers, located on most bases, have many resources available for employment so make sure you check them out. Contact your MFSC for assistance.

Filing Taxes in Two Countries

Filing Taxes in Canada

Every Canadian must still file taxes, as you did in Canada. However, while living OUTCAN, you must mail in the paper form of your taxes; online filing will not be accepted. When putting your address down you need to use the following –

- Mailing Address is the PO Box in Belleville.
- The physical address will be your home address in the United States.

It is recommended that you include the following documents with your tax return:

- Posting message,
- Information Sheet (See Annex B) and a
- Letter stating your situation.

*If you are unsure where you should be paying taxes, contact your financial advisor.

Filing Taxes in United States (US)

If you are working in the US or have an EAD, you must file US taxes with the IRS. If you need to renew your EAD for a cross posting (another location in US) or you are posted to the US a few years later, you must show proof you do not owe the IRS money for back taxes.

There are many accountants in Canada who can assist you doing both Canadian and US taxes – which you should look into. Also check with SISIP to see if they can help.

*If you are unsure where you should be paying taxes, contact your financial advisor.

Canadian Revenue Agency (CRA), Taxes, Residency Status & Canadian Benefits

Your residency status determines how you submit and pay your annual Canadian income taxes and what benefits you are entitled to as either a deemed or factual resident of Canada or a non-resident. This can have a significant financial impact if you are unaware of how your residency status affects your taxes as well as normal Canadian benefits such as Child Tax Credits, contributing to TFSA's, etc.

This has been an ongoing challenge to address the residency issues that many families have faced and, honestly, still face with CRA. The information and direction we, MFS, have received from CRA International Office is located below. However, it is still advised that if you have specific questions you contact CRA directly (International Tax Department), as each individual case is different.

CRA Information

S5-F1-C1: Determining an Individual's Residence Status (Income Tax Folio) Residency

You should read the Income Tax Folio above, to make yourself aware of the tax laws and implications.

However, to provide some clarity, the determination below was made by CRA officials in 2015 with representation from the offices of Minister of Defence and Finance. (Taken verbatim from their notice)

“Spouses that Intend to Return to Canada and expect to maintain their Canadian Residency

Where you are the spouse of a Canadian Government employee and are moving with your spouse and family to another country for your spouse to carry out a foreign assignment for the Government of Canada and it is your intention to return to Canada following the assignment, then you will be considered a factual resident of Canada. This factual residency is based on your intention to return to Canada as well as your secondary residential ties maintained with Canada, as described in paragraph of Folio S5-F1-C1.”

In this situation, CRA advises that you should not complete a Form NR73, Determination of Residency Status (when you leave Canada).

As a factual resident, you will have to complete and file your Canadian Personal Income Tax Return and you will meet the residency requirement for Canadian benefits administered by the CRA. – See Annex B for further detail – CRA Information Sheet – Spouses Of Canadian Government Employee on Foreign Assignment

Spouses that do not expect to maintain their Canadian Residency

If you are choosing to not return to Canada, according to the CRA notice provided to CAF Families, you should fill in the NR73 and submit to CRA to determine your residency status, as per the CRA direction in attached document. If it is determined that you will be a non-resident of Canada, you should know the tax implications and research them on Government of Canada –CRA Site.

Grievance

A Grievance can now be filled out online if you have a CRA online account – CRA MyAccount

If you need to file a grievance, ask your Support Unit to provide you with a letter verifying your OUTCAN status. You should include with your grievance the following documents;

- Letter from your Support Unit
- Posting message,
- Information Sheet (See Annex B) and a
- Letter stating your situation.

Audit Letter

Some Canadians continue to randomly receive Audit letters from CRA, especially from the Child Tax Benefit department. If you receive this, it is just that - random. Families in Canada will receive the same type of letter. It is recommended that you respond to the letter with the following documents:

- Posting message,
- Information Sheet (See Annex B) and a
- Letter stating your situation.

Quebec

If you went OUTCAN from Quebec, please contact Quebec for further tax questions. Revenue Quebec

If you continue to have issues with your residency status, please contact Jennifer Paul. She is the program manager working with military families to capture the ongoing issues faced by military spouses.

Having a Baby OUTCAN | Canadian Citizenship for your Child(ren)

Having a baby in the US is another somewhat complicated process. It does mean some extra paperwork for you.

Essentially, if you have a child born in the US while on a posting there, your child will automatically be a dual citizen. But you must obtain a Canadian Citizenship Certificate from the Government of Canada, which is your citizenship proof.

Application for a Citizenship Certificate for Adults and Minors (Proof of Citizenship)

You will need to get copies of documents for your application certified by a Notary Public. Individuals should Google the notary requirements in the US State they live in. If you cannot find a notary who will certify your documents to be a true copy, you may have an Officer of the Canadian Armed Forces certify the document is true. When submitting your application, please make sure you include a letter explaining the situation. If you have a reference for where it states that a notary cannot sign the documents, include a print out of that information too. If you need additional help, contact the Embassy in Washington DC – CDLS(W), Protocol Coordinator via email at, cdlswprotocol@forces.gc.ca

It is important that you apply for a baby's proof of Canadian citizenship well in advance of moving back to Canada. Insufficient proof of Canadian citizenship can severely impact obtaining provincial healthcare upon return to Canada which can be costly.

Check out our FAQ on Having a Baby in the US for further details.

Finances for Dual Citizen Children

Children born in the US (to all people who are not diplomats) are automatically dual citizens for Canada and the US. With that status, however, they will be required to do a bit of extra paperwork for the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) with the US Government.

US citizens, regardless of their residency, are required to file taxes and report their world income. Once they begin working, they will be required to file taxes in both countries; in most cases, they will only be required to pay taxes to one country – US or Canada. There are many accountants in Canada who can assist you doing both Canadian and US taxes – which you should look into. Also check with SISIP to see if they can help.

The US also requires US citizens to report their financial institute accounts. This means that if you open a bank account in Canada in your child's name, you may need to fill out a document that reports this to the US government – it is nothing to be alarmed about; it is more for informational purposes. To read more about this and its requirements, check out the Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts (FBAR) website from the IRS.

Additional reading can be done on the IRS Website - Taxpayers Living Abroad

American Born Males - Selective Service System

Selective Service System (SSS) is a US Government agency established in 1980 to register all US males aged 18 to 25.

This list is one which the US Government draws upon in case of a national emergency requiring rapid expansion of its Armed Forces. By registering all young men, the Selective Service ensures that a future draft will be fair and equitable.

The following is taken from the SSS website:

- all male US citizens, who are 18 but not yet 26 years old must register within 30 days of their 18th birthday, regardless of their place of residence (i.e. includes citizens living outside the USA),
- permanent alien citizens living in the USA must register,
- dual citizens must register,
- failure to register could result in prosecution, a fine and/or jail for up to five years and
- registration is also a requirement to qualify for Federal student aid, job training benefits, and most Federal employment.

In essence, Canadian family members on visas need not register, regardless of the visa type. However, Canadian family members holding dual US citizenship (by birth or naturalization) MUST register, regardless of passport/visa status. Further information is available on the Selective Service System website: <https://www.sss.gov/Registration-Info/Who-Registration>.

So – if you have a male baby while posted to the United States – YOU MUST PAY ATTENTION TO THIS!

Information Sheet

Spouses of Canadian Government Employees on Foreign Assignment – Residency Status for Tax Purposes

The purpose of this document is to provide general residency information for the spouses of employees of the Department of National Defence (“DND”)/members of the Canadian Armed Forces (“CAF”) and Department of Foreign Affairs, Trade and Development (“DFATD”) Canada that are sent on foreign assignments. This document does not address all possible situations that may require more analysis when determining the tax implications.

Please note that our reference to a spouse in this document includes a common-law partner.

Spouses that Intend to Return to Canada and expect to Maintain their Canadian Residency

Where you are the spouse of a Canadian Government employee and are moving with your spouse and family to another country for your spouse to carry out a foreign assignment for the Government of Canada and it is your intention to return to Canada following the assignment, then you will be considered a factual resident of Canada. This factual residency is based on your intention to return to Canada as well as your secondary residential ties maintained with Canada, as described in paragraph 1.14 of Folio S5-F1-C1.

Please do not complete a Form NR73, Determination of Residency Status (Leaving Canada).

As a factual resident, you will have to complete and file your Canadian Personal Income Tax Return and you will meet the residency requirement for Canadian benefits administered by the CRA.

Spouses that do not expect to Maintain their Canadian Residency

If you believe that you will be a non-resident of Canada when you leave with your spouse and family for the foreign assignment because your intention, primary ties and secondary ties support your status as a non-resident of Canada, then you should complete Form NR73, Determination of Residency Status (Leaving Canada). The Canada Revenue Agency will review the information provided in your completed Form NR73 to determine whether or not you will be considered a non-resident of Canada.

If it is determined that you will be a non-resident of Canada, you should know the tax implications, which include:

- (1) You will be deemed to have disposed of certain properties that may give rise to capital gains (taxes on gains can be deferred by using Form T1244, Election, Under Subsection 220(4.5) of the
